Zhang Candy (6A)

Due to the warnings of the climate change, I will invent a special floor to generate renewable energy.

The floor is made of special materials with springs in rooms. When people are walking inside, the kinetic energy generated by stepping on the floor is converted into electricity by the springs. The electrical energy is then transferred through series of power generation devices and is stored in the power plant. This wonderful floor can meet the electricity demand of more than 60% of each house.

Moreover, this is a solar floor as well. It can be used in open area. The sunlight is reflected onto the floor by using inexpensive mirrors and convert the energy contained in the sunlight into electrical energy through photoelectric conversion. Instead of using high-cost solar cells, it reduces the cost of power generation.

In order to avoid the catastrophic effects of climate change in the future, let's start energy conservation now.

Getting lost

Huang Ching Hei, Casey (4D)

Phoebe and Annie were good friends. One day, Phoebe called Annie. ‘What are you going to do tomorrow?’ Annie said, ‘Let’s play badminton together tomorrow.’ Phoebe asked, ‘How do I get to the sports centre?’ Annie said, ‘You go out of Kwai Fong MTR Station Exit A. Then, you turn left and walk past the bakery. Stop at the convenience store. You walk across the road and you can see the sports centre.’

The next day, Phoebe was worried. She got lost. Then, she called Annie, ‘I am at the convenience store.’ Annie said, ‘You walk across the road and you can see the sports centre.’ In the end, Phoebe was happy. She found Annie. They played badminton together.

Dear Aunt Lily,

How are you? Are you busy at work? Sorry for not writing to you before. I was busy preparing for Sports Day at my school. Let me tell you about it.

Sports Day took place in North District Sports Ground on 30th September. Miss Shum opened the event. She is our school principal. Mr. Kwan was the special guest. He is our school manager.

About 700 people joined the sports day events. My friends, Mandy and Ella, were in the 100 m race. Mandy was faster than Ella and she won the race. Zoe won the high jump. She jumped very high. I came second in the long jump. I felt very happy.

Write to me when you have time. I’d love to hear from you.

Love,
Vicky

A car accident

Last weekend, Kate and her family went on an outing, they went to Sai Kung Country Park to have a picnic because the weather was fine and they wanted to celebrate Kate's birthday there.

While Kate's dad was driving, Kate's mum was watching videos. Besides, the children were playing games happily. Kate's grandma was tired, she was taking a nap while grandpa was reading the newspaper. However, the weather suddenly changed, the sky was dark, the sun has gone and it rained dogs and cats. Kate's dad did not see clearly and the floor was wet, he accidently drove into the woods along the road and crashed into a tree.

The children did not fasten their seat belts because they did not like the feeling. The car broke down and they banged their heads. Turned out to be the best out of the worst, it was not a serious accident, dad and mum were protected by the air bags. Grandpa and grandma have put their seat belts on, they were safe. Kate's mum called the police immediately, they all were sent to hospital.

It was an unforgettable experience for Kate and her family. What a day!

Careless Sophie

Wong Kwan Ho, Andy (5A)

Yesterday, Sophie was in Carwong Restaurant. She was hungry.

The waiter asked, 'Which starter would you prefer?' 'I'd prefer the Buffalo wings to the vegetable soup,' said Sophie. 'How about the main course?' asked the waiter politely. 'I'd prefer the roast chicken to the grilled steak,' said Sophie.

After eating the delicious meal, Sophie asked for the bill. 'How much is it?' asked Sophie. 'Sixty-eight dollars, please,' said the waiter. Sophie felt embarrassed. She did not have enough money to pay the bill. She only had twenty dollars.

In the end, Sophie found a credit card in her bag. She asked, 'Can I pay by credit card?' 'Sure!' said the waiter. So, Sophie used the credit card to pay the bill.

I am thirty years old

Gao Siu Nga, Yo yo (5A)

'Mum, where's my birthday cake? I want to make a wish!' I shout. 'Oh! Here you are!' Mum answers happily. I wish I could see my future self.

Suddenly, a strong wind blows hard! Where is Mum? And where am I now? I am scared! Oh! I am standing in front of a strange house. It is big and colourful. Here is a press button! Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter. I press Spring. The door opens. Wow, what a beautiful house! There are flowers around. I can hear a lot of birds singing and see some butterflies dancing. Unexpectedly, wonderful sounds of music come from somewhere. Oh! I know why I am here. In the future I will live in this house!

I really want to see if I will look pretty. Yeah! That is what I want to be. But then my future self looks sad. Why? Then I ask my future self, 'Hello, why are you so sad?' 'My --- my mum is sick!' she answers.

Oh dear! Will my mum be sick? Suddenly, the wind blows hard again. What year is it? I find that it is 2038. Suddenly there is an old woman sitting in front of me. It is Mum. She looks healthy. What good news for me. How about my children? I really want to see them. I hear some people laughing. I go into the garden. There are a boy and a girl playing with a ball. They are so cute! I cannot believe they are my children!

There is another thing I want to foresee. Can I become a scientist? Oh dear! I cannot but surprisingly I become a popular singer!

I will have a wonderful and meaningful life. I really want to grow up pretty fast.

Umbrella Holder 2.0

Chen Yick On, Leon (5A)

Bad weather brings different problems to the world. I would like to invent a machine to solve these problems. This machine can help people who hates holding an umbrella in the rain. Its name is Umbrella Holder 2.0.

Most people think that holding an umbrella is tiring, but this machine can solve the problem. Actually, Umbrella Holder is a robot. Its hand is made of steel because it must be strong enough to hold an umbrella. However, it is not as cute as what you imagine. But why I said so? It is because it only has one arm!

The usage of this machine is not difficult. Users just need to place their umbrellas on its hand, and stick a miniature radio transmitter on its owner's body. The machine will follow its owner automatically.

I think my invention can help many people. I would improve my machine if it is necessary.

My brave dog saved a lady!

Yuan Yu Ki, Kitty (5A)

Believe it or not, even a small dog can do a good job!

Yesterday, I walked my dog, Ben, in the park near my home. The air was fresh and we felt relaxed. Suddenly, I saw a robber pointing a knife at a woman and she handed over her handbag. The woman looked pale and frightened. The robber warned, 'Give me your handbag, otherwise I'll hurt you.' The woman was scared and said, 'Don't hurt me! I'll give you all my money!'

When the robber looked at me, I was calling the police. He wanted to escape but Ben ran after him and bit his legs. The robber fell down and it barked at him. Then, I caught the robber.

Soon, the police arrived. They arrested the robber. The woman got back her handbag and gave me some money as a reward. I used it to buy some meat for Ben. 'Good job!' I said to it and we went home. We felt happy.

What an unforgettable day!

My new life in Hong Kong

Yang Tsz Hin, Vanessa (5A)

Dear Kevin,

How are you doing?

I have been in Hong Kong for three months. I feel fantastic because Hong Kong is a Food Paradise. I can eat different kinds of food there, like Indian food, Korean food, Chinese food... When I eat them, I feel mouthwatering.

Chinese and British always wear T-shirts and jeans but on special occasions like Chinese New Year, Chinese will wear traditional costumes such as qipao and chengsam. British will wear bowler hat, suit, long white dress. It is different.

Our cuisines and Chinese cuisines are similar. At breakfast, we also eat eggs, beans...But in Hong Kong, we seldom can eat fish and chips. Although our languages and Chinese languages are different, I can communicate with Hong Kong people by speaking English. Our religions and Chinese religions are different. Many Chinese are Buddhists and we are Christians. Besides, our traditions and Chinese traditions are different either. Chinese will celebrate Chinese New Year but they also celebrate Christmas and Easter.

I like living in Hong Kong because it is a wonderful place. I will show you around if you come there. How's your school life in England?

Please drop me a few lines when you are free. Take care.

Best wishes,

Toby

Green travel

Hu Yuet Kiu, Joe (5B)

A Green Museum is newly built in the mountain in the town. There are three zones in the museum: Recycle Zone, Reuse Zone and Reduce Zone.

At the Recycle Zone, it shows the city's infrastructure, such as buildings and bridges, which is made of different kinds of rubbish. There is a cardboard house that I like most. Its windows are made of plastic bottles. Its roof is a part of a broken car. Its lights are the mountain stones. What an amazing house!

At the Reuse Zone, it shows how people make good use of broken computers to build indoor and outdoor furniture.

At the Reduce Zone, the latest technology of renewable energy such as solar panels and windmills is introduced. The long-term investments of such technology is to save energy and to reduce environmental pollution.

What an impressive green travel! I definitely will invite everyone to visit this museum.

The shepherd boy and the wolf

Lau Wing Shan, Shelly (6A)

Many years ago, there was a shepherd boy who lived in a village. The shepherd boy took a flock of sheep to a mountain every day.

One day, the shepherd boy felt bored, and thought to himself, 'I'm so bored. What can I do today?' Then, he decided that he wanted to trick the villagers. The shepherd boy shouted, 'Wolf! There is a wolf coming towards the village!' The villagers all frantically ran down, but they didn't see the wolf. So, they asked the shepherd boy, 'Where is the wolf?' 'There is no wolf!' the shepherd boy answered mischievously. The villagers were disappointed by the shepherd boy's behavior.

The next day, the shepherd boy shouted again. The villagers came and didn't see the wolf. They walked away angrily. After some days, a wolf came. 'Help! Help! The wolf is going to eat my sheep,' the shepherd boy cried loudly. Although he cried, no one came to save him. In the end, the wolf ate all his sheep. The shepherd boy was devastated.

An email about how I use my mobile phone

Man Lee Ying, Zoe (6B)

Dear Miss Wong,

How are you? How do you use your mobile phone? I think the invention of the mobile phone is very useful. I cannot live without a mobile phone.

Before I had a mobile phone, I was usually bored. I usually played with my friends and family. I had nothing to do when I did not have my own mobile phone. Now, I have a mobile phone. I can do many things with it. There are many uses of mobile phone. I can send e-mails and messages to others with it. I can play games when I'm bored. I can make voice calls to others. I can take beautiful photos and funny videos. I can search for information too. It is very convenient. I usually spend two or three hours on using my mobile phone every day. Although mobile phones are very useful, we can't spend too much time on it because it may harm our eyes. What I like most about mobile phone is searching for information because I don't need to go to the library to read books.

After a few minutes, Ben used tools to scare away the bees. He was brave. In the afternoon, we finished planting trees. Although we were tired, we felt satisfied. Today was an unforgettable day.

An email about how I use my mobile phone

Huang Ka Yi, Katy (6C)

Dear Miss Fung,

How are you? I think the invention of the mobile phone is great. There are so many uses of a mobile phone. First, I can browse the Internet. Also, I can use it to search for information. I can send and receive e-mails and text messages.

Before the invention of the mobile phones, people wrote letters and used carrier pigeons to receive messages. Since the invention of the mobile phones, people have used e-mails to send letters. I sometimes use my mobile phone each day because I need to search for information.

Mobile phones help people to communicate with others and they can learn more knowledge about the world. However, some people say mobile phones are not good for us because some people use mobile phones all the time and there is less communication between friends and families.

I like to browse the Internet because it can let me learn more knowledge about the world. What do you think about the invention of the mobile phone?
