Sunny and hot

I had a great day today.

Yesterday was my birthday. My mum gave me forty dollars to buy a present for myself. I went to big toy shop. I saw a lot of toys there. Then, I spotted a little cute robot cat. It was so cute, so I bought it. When I got home, I was amazed because it could talk! The toy cat said 'Hello' to me!

Today, I brought my robot cat to school. I put it in my school bag. I showed it to my classmates at recess. They liked my robot cat. Ben liked my toy cat very much and wanted to buy my toy cat. However, I said, 'No! It is my birthday present. I won't sell it to you!'

I feel very happy because I received the best birthday present from my mum.
