

A visit to Grace Children's Centre

On Sunday, my parents and I visited Grace Children's Centre.

First, we wrapped some gifts, baked a cake and made some paper dolls for the children before the visit. Then, we played games and sang songs with the children there. Next, we talked with the children and played hide-and-seek with them.

After lunch, we cleaned the floor and tables. We also chatted with the children. Dad and Mum tidied up the bookshelves and painted them in bright colours. The children felt happy. I felt happy too.

I think it is very meaningful to help the needy. I want to visit the centre again. Next time, I will perform magic tricks for them.
