

A family camp

Gu Ming Xuan, Eric (5B)

Spencer went to a family camp with his parents. They were looking at a poster of horse-riding at a family camp on Hong Kong Island. Then, Spencer saw a boy with a cap and wanted to join the activity with him. Spencer said, ‘Would you like to join the horse-riding class with us?’ ‘Yes, I’d love to,’ the boy replied. The boy introduced himself. His name was Bob.

‘Have you ever ridden a horse?’ Spencer said. ‘I have ridden a horse once. It was exciting!’ Bob replied. Soon the time passed very fast, they learned to ride horses and they felt very happy.

Lastly, they went to drink some tea and they were very happy.
