

A birthday party for Mum 5A Chow Yuen Lam , Anna

Today is Mum's birthday. My sister and I organised a birthday party for her. We made a to-do list for the preparation of the party.

At first, I went to the supermarket to buy some yummy party foods, meanwhile my sister was at home tidying the living room and writing the birthday card for mum. Suddenly, my phone rang, it was my sister. 'Hi, brother, have you bought the party foods yet?' my sister asked. 'Yes, I've already bought them. Have you finished writing the birthday card or tidied the living room yet?' I asked. 'Yes, I've tidied it, but I haven't finished writing the card yet.'

The birthday party started in the evening. Mum was excited about our surprised party. Later on, my sister asked, 'Did you buy the cake?' 'Oh no, I forgot. Now, mum's birthday is destroyed,' I sadly replied. Then, mum said, 'That's fine, kids. I'm really grateful for all the things you did. You guys are already my special present!'

In the end, my sister and I clamed down and had a wonderful evening. The living room erupted in laughter.
