

A special festival

Zhuang Po Ki, John (6A)

Oktoberfest is a special festival that is celebrated by people in Germany. It is celebrated from late September to early October. It is very important to the Germans.

There is a lot of preparation work before the festival. People need to build large tents. Tables and chairs are put inside the tents by the Germans. Thousands of people will rush to the tents. It will be as crowded as the Disneyland.

Different activities are held during the festival, such as music shows, light shows, plays and even competitions between the Germans. Most of the shows are free but people need to pay if they want to play the exciting rides.

Drinking beer is essential to this festival, so you can enjoy a variety of German beers and delicious food, such as white sausages and roasted pork.

For those who love beer, participating in Oktoberfest allows them to try more beers from different regions and producers, learn about different types and styles of beer, while also networking and sharing experiences with other beer lovers.

Everyone has a great time at this festival. From playing to eating and drinking. What a wonderful festival!
