I was absent from school this morning. I felt uncomfortable when I woke up. Unluckily, I had a fever and got a runny nose because I ate so much ice cream. I was very regretful! Mum took my temperature. 'Oh, my dear! Your temperature is 39 °C. Don't worried! I will take you to see a doctor,' said Mum. Then, Mum drove me to the clinic at once.

In the clinic, there were many patients. They looked terrible. They all were different problems from me. A man kept coughing and sneezing. However, he did not wear a mask, A baby was crying loudly. I think it was very ill. A girl had a stomachache. She looked very sick, then she went to the toilet. When a nurse called the man, he came into the room. I was bored and waited for more than one hour.

After an hour, it's my turn. The doctor said to me, 'You have a cold. You must take medicine on time and take more rest. Don't forget to drink more water and eat fresh fruit.'

Finally, I stayed in bed unhappily, but my friends phoned me. We had a good time. I feel better now!
